Two Parties of Engineers in This County.

Surveys Being Made in Lawrence County, the Object of Which Can Not Be Ascertained.

Two parties of railroad engineers have been at work in this county during the last three weeks. Their movements have caused much speculation among the people as to the meaning of the work.

One party has been over a route practically the same as the one surveyed several months ago from Webbville to Hiale and into Mingo county, and the work is under the charge of the same engineer. The information obtained and published about that at the time indicated that a Canadian company owning extensive and valuable mineral lands in Breathitt county was having the survey made with a view of getting an outlet for its coal. The purchase of the Eastern Kentucky railway was said to be a part of the plan.

The other party of engineers has been at Fallsburg for about two weeks, working on two or three routes from that place. Nothing can be learned about the object of this survey or who is having the work done. A survey made a few years ago demonstrated the feasibility of a railroad route north and south via Fallsburg. That survey left the river at Ashland and came back to it at Louisa.

Badly Overworked.

The word "prominent" is the worst overworked word in the English language. Let a fellow die was not known outside his home precinct and who didn't own enough ground to be buried on, and the penny-a-liner for the daily papers at once writes him up as a "prominent farmer." Sent—Times-Democrat.

You're way off. "Professor" can give prominent cards, spades and big casino and beat it out. The moment a young man gets a third class, second grade certificate to teach school he begins calling himself "Professor." Every corn doctor, dog trainer, and sideshow barker is a professor. The once honored title is so worn and abused that those who are really entitled to it are ashamed to hear the title. Get out!

Two Bridal Couples.

Two couples of newlyweds from the Big Sandy valley came down on the B. & O. S. train No. 73 last evening—Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wheeler, of Paintsville, and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hinkle, Jr., of Richardson. They registered at The Ventum, and remained here until this afternoon, when they left for a honeymoon trip East.

Their baggage, upon its arrival last evening, showed plainly that the owners thereof were newlyweds, as the trunks were decorated in the most approved fashion with old shoes, ribbons, and playards. Ashland Independent.

Pactons Refused.

Governor Wilson has refused to pardon John Bowman, Boyd county, sentenced for life for burglary under the habitual criminal act and Galen Row and Dick Bradley, Floyd county, sentenced for two years for manslaughter.

In the Oil Field.

There is nothing new to report from the Louisa oil field. Work on six wells is going along as rapidly as possible. Another month should tell a good deal more about the field than is now known.

Kotton Candy.

Stop at the Eldorado theatre and see the latest novelty. Louisa is up to snuff and up to the minute. The making of cotton candy is an interesting process worth going to see.

Seriously Injured.

A young man named Tackett was brought to Riverview hospital last Sunday, suffering intensely from an injury received at the lumber camp of the Prendergast Co., on Pigeon Creek, Mingo county, W. Va. He was caught between two logs on Friday last and horribly crushed about the hips and pelvis. He was in very bad shape when he was received and the prognosis was anything but favorable. He had evidently not received proper care, but he is now resting pretty well, and the outlook is much better. He is about 20 years old.

A Piece of Vandalism.

The NEWS remembers that it noted the fact that Mr. A. M. Campbell had surrounded his residence with a handsome iron fence. It now regretfully records the fact that a few nights ago some vandals or vandals greatly marred the beauty of Mr. Campbell's fence by twisting and bending the inner curved pieces of the uprights entirely out of shape. This was a bit of pure deviltry, malicious mischief without cause or shadow of excuse. Anyone found guilty of this or in anyway injuring property should get the limit of the law.

In Favor of the Contestees.

The contested election cases which occupied the time of the Boyd Circuit Court so long were dismissed by order of Judge Halbert last Friday, thus awarding a victory to those whom the certificates of election had been granted, namely, Ed S. Hughes, county clerk; John Wurts, county judge; George W. Calvin, sheriff, and J. M. York, justice.

Ed S. Hughes is a brother of Postmaster A. M. Hughes, and formerly resided in Louisa.

THE CITY COUNCIL

Met in Regular Monthly Session Last Tuesday Night.

City Council met in regular monthly session on last Tuesday night. The mayor being absent on account of sickness R. L. Vinson was chairman pro tem. Among other things done the city marshal and the street light men were allowed their monthly salaries.

It was ordered that tiling be put in near the M. E. church, South, so as to make a better carriage approach to the church.

The much discussed—and cursed—question of to sell or not to sell on Sunday, and what's a necessary of life and what is not was left to the judgment of the city marshal.

The waterworks people having said they would furnish the liquid it was decided to put in four public watering troughs for the use of all who may want to use them. One will be placed near the foot of the town hill, one near the head of Lock avenue, one near the Louisa end of the bridge and one other at some proper point. The improvement committee was authorized and instructed to purchase the troughs and have them erected. This action on part of the council meets the approval of all who care for the comfort of horses and other draft animals. In dry, hot weather water is not abundant on some of the roads leading to Louisa, and as a consequence many a poor animal driven along these roads suffers intensely.

The Processs Were Large.

The supper given by the ladies of the South Methodist Church last Friday evening was decidedly successful, socially, financially and gastronomically. It was largely attended, the receipts exceeding expectations, and the viands served were excellent.

Miss Carrie, daughter of Chas. Salyer, now living in Pittsburg, has recently suffered a relapse after having partially recovered from a ten weeks spell of illness. She first had typhoid fever. Her condition is very critical.

Vinson-McClothlin.

Miss Hermia Vinson, of Gleuhays, W. Va., was married on Monday, May second, to Traher Henderson McClothlin, of Rush, Boyd county, Ky. The marriage occurred at the residence of K. F. Vinson, the bride's father, and the ceremony was conducted by the Rev. William Jarrell, the venerable grandfather of her who is now Mrs. Timber Henderson McClothlin.

The bride was most becomingly dressed in a tailor made suit of tan broadcloth, with hat and shoes to match. She is a very pretty young woman, and in her bridal garb she was handsomer than ever.

The wedding feast was, in the language of a guest, all that heart could wish. Mr. and Mrs. McClothlin left on No. 15 over the N. & W. for Pritchard, and from that point they went to their home on East Fork, Heyd county, where, let us believe, they will live long and be happy.

Move to Prosperity.

John D. Rose, of Lacy Creek, is experiencing a whole lot of hard luck here lately. A few weeks since he lost a fine setter bird dog; then he had a calf fall over a bank into the creek and drown, and Friday night he had four mules run away with the result that three of them were badly cut up, the best of the bunch being the worst hurt.—Hazel Green Herald.

Mr. Rose seems to be in a rather hard way, but if he really wants to bloom in style he should move onto Frank Evans' place, out nt Prosperity. All sorts of things there, like Jonah's gourd, spring up in a night.

Our Property Raised by State Board.

The personal property and real estate of Lawrence county have been raised by the State Board of Equalization. The raise is fifteen per cent in all. This is deemed an excessive raise and an effort will be made to have it reduced to reasonable figures. Accordingly the County Court has appointed T. S. Thompson and W. T. Cain a committee to appear before the board, and they left Thursday morning for Frankfort and will endeavor to have the board's valuation lowered.

From Far Idaho.

W. S. Bellomy, writing from Park, Idaho, says it does his soul good to get the NEWS, and that to read the Hubbardstown letter seems like home. He further writes that R. H. Bellomy and family and H. E. Skeens are well. The snow there is nearly all gone except in the heavy timber, where it is about two feet deep.

Washington Briefs.

Representative Bennett said that former Representative Samuel J. Pugh, of the Ninth district, had entered the field for the Eastern District Attorneyship. Mr. Bennett has endorsed Judge Howard, however.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Wheeler, of Paintsville, and Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Hinkle, of Lawrence county, two newly wedded pairs, are here on their wedding tour.

Poetry and Essays Not Wanted.

The NEWS appreciates the kindness of its correspondents and others who contribute essays and poems for publication, but, really, the paper is compelled to leave out every week articles of interest because there is no room for them. What the NEWS wants from its correspondents is the live news of the localities in which they live, nothing else.

Advertised Letters.

Harm Akers, John Gibson Brown, Sam Castle, Peter Collins, Druse Esty (2), Mrs. Bettie Gordon, Lon Groce, Mrs. Jessie Harris, J. A. Waterson, T. J. Miller, Willie Nus, America Ratcliff, Miss Mary Swin, A. M. HUGHES, P. M.

Wedding in Louisa.

On Saturday, last, Spencer Perkins, aged 72, and Mary Saxton, aged 40, were married in the office of Green Skaggs, the Rev. H. B. Hulett, officiating minister.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Young Man Sent to the Pen for Burglary.

Dave Marcum Gets Verdict for $2,000 Against the C. & O. for Injuries Inflicted by Cyclone.

The spring term of the Lawrence Circuit Court continues its sessions and may not close until next week. The cases now being tried are ordinary and equity, the Commonwealth docket having been finished on Saturday. The Dr. Marcum case was continued on the showing made by the defense that his leading counsel, John S. Marcum, of Huntington, was not able to be present.

Illegal retailers of liquor caught it very heavily this term of the court. One distiller, Charles Flannery, of Webbville, in other respects a good citizen, and always an honest, straight man, has cried "enough" and will go out of business. His fines and the costs amount to over a thousand dollars, which he paid.

Judge Hannah is doing much to stamp out the liquor traffic in this county. In one case recently the Commonwealth had made out a case beyond any reasonable doubt, but the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. The Judge set it aside as not being according to the law and evidence and gave the jury some pretty straight talk. The eyes of jurors were opened regarding evidence, and from that time on the doses were heroic.

All of Tuesday and part of Wednesday were consumed in the trial of the Dave Marcum case against the C. and O. railway. This was one of the "cyclone" cases growing out of the action of the storm of Sunday, April 7, 1907, when it blew a handkerchief off the track near Two Mile, on which were Dave Marcum and several others. Marcum alleged severe and lasting injury and sued the company for $2,000, and the jury gave him all he sued for. This was the second trial. On Saturday the grand jury made its final report and was discharged. The indictments returned by the late jury are sufficient in number to go over the whole State of Kentucky, that is, the jury found 119 true bills, which, if so distributed, would be sufficient for every county. These indictments embrace almost every offense known to law, from a breach of the peace to murder.

Young Lambert, who robbed the store of Arthur Preston, at Graves Shoals, plead guilty and threw himself upon the mercy of the jury which tried him. This fact and his youth caused him to receive the lowest penalty, one year in the penitentiary.

Thursday was taken for a hearing of the case of Arthur Preston against the C. and O. railway company, for damage caused by the burning of plaintiff's barn. This is the second trial of this case and it was going on when this paper went to press.

To the Man Who Borrows.

Wouldn't it save you money in the end if you subscribed for yourself? Think of the time you waste in borrowing the paper? Think of the helpful articles you miss. More than that, remember that every added subscription helps to make the paper better for everybody.

The paper does a lot of things for you, when you come to think of it. You can well afford to show your appreciation by adding your name to the subscription list.—Warren (Pa.) Mail.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, South, held the regular monthly meeting last Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. James Carey. After the dispatch of the business of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

Passenger train No. 39 was delayed here several hours Monday on account of a broken engine.

Hiawatha Entertainment Called Off.

Because of a great deal of work necessary to fit the College Auditorium for use, and it not being possible to get it done within the short time before school closes, it will be impossible for the drama "Hiawatha" to be given, as was stated last week. Much regret and even disappointment is expressed by both myself and the players, since a great amount of work had been done in preparation for the play, before it was made known that the stage could not be finished. It is hoped that by another year all barriers of this kind will be removed and that work in the Expression department will not be retarded. Harriet E. Rees.

Will Apply For Pardon.

Earl E. Dudding, the Huntington merchant, who was recently convicted of murder and sentenced to the penitentiary for five years in the Criminal Court of Campbell county, has made application for pardon. The application for clemency is based upon the bad health of Dudding, who, since the killing of his uncle, Ira F. Chapman, has been a nervous wreck. His trial consumed several days, and the Court refused to set aside the verdict. After Judge Doolittle, of the Circuit Court, had refused a new trial, Dudding gave up hope and made application for a pardon.

Arrested in Virginia.

David Stanley, murderer of Geo. W. Dotson, at Prestonsburg, Floyd county, several weeks ago, and for whom there was a reward of $400, has been arrested just beyond the border line, in Wise county, Virginia. Stanley is said to have made a fierce resistance, but at length gave up. He will be taken to Prestonsburg to stand trial.

MURDER IN MINGO.

Amos Hatfield Killed Doc Mounts in Self Defense.

Amos Hatfield, nephew of old "Devil Anse" Hatfield, Sunday shot and killed "Doc" Mounts, a constable at Lindsey, in Mingo county, the shooting being the result of a fight over a woman's love, both men being aspirants for the affections of Jane Lusby, of Lindsey. Hatfield, it is said, had sent word to Mounts that if he didn't keep away from the girl he would kill him on sight. Mounts sent word back that if Hatfield did kill him he would have to draw quicker than he ever had before.

The men met Sunday afternoon, at about eight, Hatfield, who is a crack shot, pulled his gun. Two shots rang out in quick succession and Mounts fell dead, both bullets piercing the heart. Mounts was a constable, a nifty man, quick on the trigger, but he never had an opportunity to get his gun.

Amos Hatfield has been tried a number of times for highway robbery and murder in Mingo county, but has in some manner always escaped conviction. The entire community is aroused by this, his latest crime. He is still at liberty and it is thought that any attempt to arrest him will result in a desperate battle.

LATER—Hatfield killed Mounts, but upon an investigation of the affair it was shown that he did it in self defense and he was acquitted.

A Correction.

Pikeville, Ky., April 30, 1910. Dear Sir:—Your issue for April 29th, had a clipping from the Enquirer of Cincinnati in regard to a "Hospital in Kentucky Mountains," at Elkhorn City, (postoffice Pmiso), erected by a Denconess of the M. E. Church. As there is no hospital there of course the paragraph is faulty. Dr. Booth is the only resident physician there and he is equipped to perform ordinary operations. "Truth."

Judge Halbert has ordered a special term of the Boyd Circuit Court, beginning July 11 and continuing three weeks.

Remember the Bazaar.

On Friday and Saturday of this week, day and evening, the ladies of the Baptist church will have a Bazaar in the storeroom adjoining the Snyder hardware store, for the sale of various fancy and useful articles in hand embroidery, fancy and cook aprons, shirt waists, dressing jackets, etc. Besides these wearables, eatables and drinkables of exquisite taste and flavor will be served during the continuance of the sale. The News assures its readers that they will be sorry if they fail to visit and buy on the occasion mentioned. Lovers of good things and pretty things will find that which will appeal to them very strongly and their taste for such things can be gratified at reasonable cost. Don't fail to help a good cause.

A Bad "Spell" of Measles.

They are not only having a bad spell of measles up in Knott county, but the disease itself has caused some curious manifestations. This is what the Hindman News-Record says of it:

"The measles are still raging; they are all over the county and adjoining Counties. The doctors say they are the worst ever known."

"Miss Armelda Combs, the daughter of Anderson Combs, who has been attending the Mountain Training School, Claims to have had a vision, in which she was told she was going to take the measles and just live two days. She seems to be troubled over the vision to such an extent that she has went home to die."

PIKEVILLE, KY.

May 3, 1910.—Judge A. J. Kirk reconvened court yesterday, which had been adjourned over from the 18th of last month. The grand and petit juries are said to be the best selection made in years. Judge Kirk delivered his usual wise and excellent instructions to the jury and the outlook for this term of court has every prospect of being a great success.

Hon. J. M. Robertson, jurist and author of Robertson's Criminal Law, received a message yesterday reading this wise, "We were married at six o'clock this morning at Owensville. Forgive us, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Fuller." The bride in this case is Miss Nona, the youngest of the three beautiful daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robertson. She had accompanied her sister, Mrs. J. Norman Blake to her home in Huntington, for a visit a week ago and the family knew nothing whatever of her matrimonial intentions, but were expecting her home every day. The groom is the handsome and polished young "lightning slogger," who was in charge of the telegraph station here last winter. The family has no objection to the bride's choice but that did object to the suddenness of things and of being taken unawares and the scene at the Roberson home all yesterday afternoon was like unto a funeral. The family all in tears. They are surely forgiven and will be so informed as soon as their whereabouts is learned. Miss Nona is very popular here as was also the groom and they have the best wishes of hosts of friends.

A vagrant band of gypsies and mixed breed Indians is camped on the common above College street and are scooping in lots of loose change, telling fortunes, etc. There are many little children among them. More's the pity, when one thinks of their vagabond and filthy existence. Their tents are as filthy as ill-kept pig pens.

T. G. Parker is closing out his vast stock of millinery at cost and there is now a big rush sale on there in charge of Miss Grace Cline. Miss Nellie Bevis is quite indisposed so we are sorry to learn.

A message has been received from Evangelist Holcomb announcing that he will begin his series of revival meetings here Monday May 8th. The meetings will be held in the riak at lower extremity of Second street.

Paris, Ky., April 29.—Petitions were presented to the City Council from a large number of citizens complaining of the laxity shown by the Government census enumerators. The Council empowered the Mayor to appoint reliable citizens to make a house-to-house canvass of the city and report all omissions made by the enumerators. It has been a source of general complaint that the census work here has been very indifferently done.

New York, April 30.—The first general impression of a very rich and very sincere Christian young man of the total misery and horror of the underworld's most sordid institution—white slavery—will result in the expenditure of a fortune to wipe out traffic not only in America, but in the wide world.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the head of the special grand jury which conducted the white slave investigation here, is so appalled and horror-stricken at the revelations here and international ramifications of the system that he is determined to wipe it out. He said today he would spend any amount of money to do this, and he is backed in his determination by his father, John D. Sr., the world's richest man.

Winchester, Ky., April 29.—Tomorrow is the last law for taking the census in this city, and unless the time is extended thousands of the people will be left out. The directors of the Commercial Club took twelve books at random today and found more than 1,000 names omitted.

On many streets no enumerator had appeared. Some of the agents have done their work well and others very badly. Washington, April 30.—Twice since the Republican revolt against Speaker Cannon has been making progress Representative John W. Langley of Kentucky has voted with the insurgents. The first time in opposition to making provision for a re-consideration of the amendment on March 19, but Langley was regular throughout the remainder of this engagement.

Yesterday he voted against the House organization for the Madison amendment to the railroad bill, which provided for a judicial valuation of railroads. This was carried against the regulars, and is considered a victory for the public. Langley's two withdrawals from the regular camp have been the subject of comment, but the reason for his occasional insurgency is only that the Tenth-district Republicans are really hostile to Cannon.

Representatives Bennett and Edwards, the other two Kentucky Republicans, are severely regular because their districts are unanimously for the House organization. But Langley has on several occasions found that his district is just the distance from the brink to the hot-temper of being howling insurgent territory.

A Mother Sent Her Son to the Store for Change

She gave him a ten-dollar bill, and told him to get one five in change—one dollar in small pieces. The merchant gave the boy a five-dollar bill, four ones, a half and two quarters. On the way home the boy lost a quarter. It cost 25 cents to get the $10 bill changed. A checking account would have saved this trouble and loss. Ask us about the advantages of a checking account. The State Board of Equalization has raised the taxable valuations of Lawrence county 15 per cent lands and 15 per cent on personal property. This is an outrage. The mountain counties come nearer listing their property at a fair value than any other section of the State. The extent of this increase is out of all reason. The Board evidently wants to make a general increase in the receipts from taxes, but there is no justice in the methods they are employing. The Legislature is the proper body to increase taxes.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because it's for One Thing Only, and Louisa People Appreciate this.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They cure sick kidneys.

They cure backache, every kidney ailment.

Here is Louisa evidence to prove it.

Mrs. Lizzie Skaggs, Lock Ave., Louisa, Ky., says: "I have never heard of a case where Doan's Kidney Pills have not lived up to representations. A cold which settled on my kidneys caused an attack of lumbago and I also suffered from rheumatic pains through the lower part of my back. My kidneys and bladder became inflamed and the kidney secretions were scanty. There was a dropsical swelling in my limbs and I always felt tired, weak and nervous. The contents of two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills gave me entire freedom from these annoying symptoms of kidneys complaint. I have been convinced that Doan's Kidney Pills will help anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

(Statement given January 28, 1908.)

On June 21, 1909, Mrs. Skaggs was interviewed and she said: "I gladly confirm the testimonial I gave in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills a year and half ago. I have had no return of kidney complaint since this remedy cured me."

Does Not Stimulate

Ayer's Sarsaparilla does not stimulate. It does not make you feel better one day, then as bad as ever the next. It is not a strong drink. No reaction after you stop using it. There is not a drop of alcohol in it. You have the steady, even gain that comes from a strong tonic and alterative. We wish you would ask your doctor about this. He knows. Trust him. Do as he says. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

What are Ayer's Pills? Liver Pills. How long have they been sold? Nearly sixty years. Do doctors recommend them? Ask your own doctor and find out.

NEWS OF THE FARM.

Womanly Wisdom

Do not forget to congratulate mother on her birthday.

Equal parts of skimmed milk and water, warmed, will remove fly specks from varnished woodwork or furniture.

Don't see why the oven doesn't bake good? Just scrape the soot and ashes out from under it and you will get an eye-opener on that subject.

Mattresses will wear better and be more easily handled if made in three pieces of equal size, two to lie lengthwise and one across. The wear can be distributed evenly, and they are especially convenient in case of illness, as they are easily moved and aired.

Blessings on the wife who sits down without a bit of grumblin and mends all the holes in the socks of the entire family every week. Every week, mind you! If she did not there would be nothing but one big hole to tackle, and that would mean money for new pairs.

The prudent young man who is looking for a wife who will "wear well," takes note of the appearance of her mother. If she is neat and trim, and looks as if she had help with the work and kindly and loving care, he may safely infer that her daughter will make a good wife.

People who throw away oatmeal or any other breakfast cereal, are throwing good money to the hens and losing the basis for the best gems they ever ate. You don't need a certain measure of cereal for the gems. Take your regular receipt and let the cereal take the place of part of the flour. You'll be glad.

Unless especially directed to the contrary by the physician, all medicines which are swallowed in tablet or pill form should be immediately followed by a drink of some liquid, as water, milk, tea, etc., etc., to dissolve in close contact with the walls of the stomach often irritate the organ.

All about us this May weather are thousands of bird babies. Every apple and pear tree, every shade tree, is a nursery; the vine on our porch, the barn leaves, the grass in the meadow, each has its hidden nestful. Their mission is one not only of joy and music but of economic value. Blessings on the bird babies! May their tribe increase!

Fill an old can of any kind with ashes, then pour in sufficient kerosene to saturate the ashes, and put the can in a safe place away from the fire. A tablespoonful is plenty to keep a blaze till the wood is laught, and it is worth all the patent fire-kindlers. There is absolutely no danger, and by keeping a supply always made up the children will not be tempted to use the kerosene can with the too often fatal result.

When wishing a new and inexpensive dish, try browned rice, either as cereal with cream or as vegetable with butter or tomato sauce. Brown the dry kernels in the oven until they are the color of ripe wheat and put them away to cook when convenient. A cup of these with two cups of hot water and half a teaspoonful of salt can be steamed in the top of a double boiler in forty minutes. Then the rice should be dry and light, although the kernels will not remain whole.

An easy way to make soap: For five pounds of fat drippings (cleaned and clarified by boiling it up with water and when cold taking it off in a solid cake) use a can of lye, 5c worth of borax (a half pound) and two cents worth of ammonia. Dilute the lye with six cups of cold water. When thoroughly dissolved add the borax and ammonia and stir in slowly the fat, melted but not hot. Stir for eight minutes, when it should look like honey. Have ready a large box, wooden or pasteboard. Pour the soap into it and, when set firmly, cut out into cakes and put away to harden.—From May Farm Journal.

Orchard and Garden

Here's to the month of May, The freer of the buds, The spoiler of the pear crop, The maker of the floods.

Do not plant big blocks of any one variety of fruit. Mixed plantings of different kinds help the trees to fertilize each other's blossoms. Remember that the blossoms of some varieties are more or less self sterile.

A careful orchardist will see that any tree which has been injured receives prompt attention. Wounds made by careless cultivators should be covered with grafting wax or cow manure and bound at once until the scar is healed.

Whatever you do, don't pile wood ashes over or rose around the body of the plant. That would be almost sure to kill it. The best way is to sow the ashes before the plants are set and harrow them into the soil. However, if the foliage is dry and the ashes are not sown too thickly, no injury would be likely to result.—From May Farm Journal.

The Poultry Yard

Let other folks do the fancy poultry business. You stick to practical work.

Keep the brooder perfectly clean and always feed the chicks in a clean place if you want them to live and thrive.

The baby ducks are just as well off, in fact better, without water to swim in until they have grown their crop of feathers.

Bits of meat carried out with brine from the barrel and left on the ground will give hens serious bowel trouble. Don't risk it.

Keep your hens from straying over on the land of your neighbor. Be particular about this if he has any crop growing there.

In the northern latitudes May is the last month when hens should be set. Chicks hatched after that will be too late for laying next fall.

Give the house a good cleaning, and plow or spade up the yards. Dirty houses breed vermin, and polluted soils are incubators for the same worm.

Give the turkey hen and her brood a coop large enough for the mother to move about and stand erect in, and you won't be so apt to have bad luck.

Guinea fowls will now be laying and a watch must be kept on their nests, as it is their nature to hide them. The eggs had better be hatched by hens.

It's annoying, perhaps, just about supper time, to have to stop to wash dirty eggs when the hen breaks one, but this is a task that must not be put off until tomorrow.

If fowls must run at large on range over a farm, by all means keep one brood, and give them all the time, knowledge and attention possible. You will have something of which you may be proud, and that will profit you financially as well.

Because hens are out on the land now do not therefore think they do not need shells and such things. They may not be able to find a bit of that kind of food in all their travels. A shortage here is apt to mean a shortage in eggs with good shells on them.

This is the month that gapes are more or less prevalent on heavy soils. Chicks should not be brooded on the same ground that was accorded to chicks afflicted with the disease last year. Place them on ground that was never before used by poultry.

When hens begin to lay soft-shelled eggs it is time to ask yourself, "Where am I failing to give them the food they need?" Don't be satisfied until you can answer that question. Almost always it is due to a lack of shell-making material.

Wheat bran, crushed egg-shells, cut bone, broken mortar and oyster-shells are fine for making eggs with good solid shells.—From May Farm Journal.

WEST VIRGINIA NEIGHBORS.

The small pox situation in Stonewall district, Wayne county, is well in hand and there is little, if any, probability of the malady spreading. All of the persons infected have been isolated by the boards of health of the county and the town of East Lynn and a strict quarantine is maintained. But one new case has been reported in the last two weeks. The rest to the county has been but a trifle. This is the situation, Bro. Corrado Advant, as reported to the News.

Attorney General Williams, of Virginia, has been fined $100 and costs, amounting in the aggregate to $180 for having assaulted Judge Sanders, of Mercer county, at Welch, one day last winter.

The two lawyers had been engaged on opposite sides of a case in law when a dispute arose, during which Williams threw an ink stand at Sanders producing some serious injuries upon him.

A damage suit is said to be pending which was entered by Sanders against his assailant.

Charleston, W. Va., April 23.—That there is a general interest in the cause of education throughout the several counties of West Virginia, such as never before existed, is shown by the recent uniform examination which was held this month.

Reports to the department of free schools from all the counties show that 4,085 applicants took the examination. This is the largest number of applicants that have taken the first uniform examination. At the second uniform examination there were about 4,500 applicants, but the number taking the first examination this year exceeds the record of last year by about 700.

While the school officials are pleased with the large attendance which they believe is proof of the interest taken in school affairs, they attribute the increased attendance to a large extent to the number of youths who took the examination.

Serious Affray at Naughtuck

The people in our vicinity were shocked Saturday night by one of the coldest, most cruel and bloody murders which have occurred lately.

Grover Waldron, a young man 21 years old was stabbed through the heart by one Dr. Robert Baisden of Rapp.

Dr. Baisden in company with two of his pals, went to the saloon and after purchasing a bill of whiskey, went to a house of ill fame and then in company with one of the inmates a woman known as Add Cooke went to the railroad station where a crowd of young men were waiting for a train.

The crowd seemed to be in the heat of humor and were laughing and talking in a friendly way when Baisden went into the Tower, while descending the steps he was seen to take a weapon from his pocket and heard to use vile language.

Then Waldron asked him if he meant it for him and Baisden replied he did, and almost instantly sent the weapon to the heart of his victim and turned and ran losing his hat; after procuring another hat he started to leave the town but was arrested by Huff Waldron and brought back to the scene of the murder, and afterwards Huff Waldron and Ben Maynard lodged him in the Williamson jail.

Waldron lived long enough to say that Dr. Baisden killed him and without a cause.

This is another instance where notorious characters come to Naughtuck to perpetrate their vile acts and Naughtuck bears the blame.—Williamson Enterprise.

Appeal From Supt. Regenstein.

April 25, 1910.

To the Friends of Education in Kentucky:

In assuming the duties of the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction, I feel that the success of my administration will depend largely upon the support I receive at the hands of those who have at heart the welfare and progress of Kentucky's schools.

My worthy predecessor, Dr. J. G. Crabbs, has blazed for us a new trail to the temple of wisdom. It is my purpose to broaden and deepen and render more passable this highway which he has marked out for the feet of the present and the coming generations to follow.

In order that I may inspire fresh zeal for learning in the hearts of our people, and raise still higher our standards of education, I must have the co-operation of the friends of education in our Commonwealth, and especially of those who are enlisted in the fight against ignorance and illiteracy.

Therefore, I earnestly solicit your help, your counsel and your prayers; and my knowledge of the abiding interest of the people of Kentucky in the cause of education gives me assurance that my request shall not be denied.

Let us, I beseech you, banish partisanship and differences of opinion, and in a broad-minded and liberal spirit labor together for more schools and better schools, more knowledge and better knowledge, more truth and better truth.

Very truly yours,
ELLSWORTH REGENSTEIN,
Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

HUNTINGSTOWN

In Loving Remembrance of Little Willie Barnett.

God in His infinite mercy has seen fit to remove from John and Caroline Meredith their little grandson, Willie Barnett, age six months. After an illness of intense suffering of six weeks he quietly passed away Friday, April 22. We were sorry to give him up, but let us humbly bow to the will of God, who doeth all for the best. He left a father, one sister, four brothers and two grandmothers to mourn their loss. Miss Ettie Meredith and his grandmother followed him to Catlett creek, where he was laid by the side of his mother and little brother to await the resurrection morn.

Not Sorry For Him.

"If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by A. M. Hughes.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO THREE MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE.

Always eat with cheerful spirit. To spoil your wife, find fault, and keep finding fault.

It takes very little brains and much less pley to constitute a first class grumbler.

Many a man who prides himself on being self made is simply a product of his good wife.

There is no more pleasant art in the world than that of saying pleasant things in a pleasant way. Don't say disagreeable things of any one to any one unless absolutely necessary.

Growing Old

It is the solemn thought connected with middle life that life's last business is begun in earnest; and it is then midway between the cradle and the grave, that a man begins to marvel that he let the days of youth go by so half enjoyed. It is the pensive autumn feeling; it is the sensation of half sadness that we experience when the longest day of the year is past, and every day that follows is shorter and the light fainter, and the feeble shadows tell that Nature is hastening with gigantic footsteps to her winter grave. So does man look back upon his youth. When the first gray hair becomes visible, when the unwelcome truth fastens itself upon the mind that a man is no longer going up hill, but down, and that the sun is always westerling he looks back on things behind. When we were children, we thought as children. But now there lies before us manhood, with its earnest work and then old age, and then the grave and then home. There is a second youth for man, better and holier than his first, if he will look on, and not look back.

The Needs of the Young.

Your children are apt to think that what you do is right. They have no ideal of truth or righteousness but yourself. Things which you do, knowing at the time to be wrong, they take to be right. They reason this way: "Father always does right. Father did this in good logic but had bad premises. No one ever gets over having had a bad example set him. Your conduct more than your teaching makes impression. Your laugh, your frown, your dress, your walk, your greetings, your goodbyes, your comings, your goings, your habits at the table, the tones of your voice are making an impression which will last a million years after you are dead and the sun will be extinguished and the mountains will crumble, and sun roll on in perpetual cycles, but there will be no diminution of the force of your conduct upon the young eyes that saw it or the young ears that heard it.

We heard one of our young men making sport of religion in front of our office the other day. His mustache had just begun to sprout and judging from his talk his mental faculties were not as well developed as his mustache. During our brief stay upon earth we have seen many just such young men cold in death. We have seen the atheist at rest in his casket, but before being consigned to their last resting place they have all been carried through the doors of a church and had prayers said over them. This young man could scoff at religion in his strength and beauty of health, but if the dark angel should get after him he would instinctively regret what he said and look into the future with fear and trembling. When one stands before the open door of eternity his desire to scoff at religion vanishes. We admit there are bad men in the church, but even these black sheep in the flock might be blacker if they were outside. No young man or old one either, should condemn the noble efforts, the army of Christian men and women are making towards bettering the condition of things, and whether we attend church or not but few of us would desire to live in a community where there was no church. Young man, in the future, if you must scoff at religion, please get a little further from our office if you do not want to see your name in print.

Whistle Here.

"Whistle here," says the signal board to the engineer as he approaches some crossing, town or thoroughfare, and warn wary people of approaching danger.

"Whistle here," says worn out physical nature, irritated nerves, sleepless nights and impaired digestion to the ambitious brain. Heed the signal or the keenest intellect and the truest heart is crippled for life.

"Whistle here," says conscience to the young man taking his first glass at the bar, uneasy and ashamed of himself and half resolves he will never be seen there again. Heed oh heed, while conscience speaks, death is in the draught.

"Whistle here," says fashionable ambition as you don your costly robes and exulteth thy neighbor when thy purse only contains what is rightfully another's. Sooner or later thy seal skin saque will be changed for a mantle of shame.

"Whistle here," signals ruined hope and despondent days when you are contracting debts to hark in case and to laden your table with delicious morsels to feast your friends; wisdom speaketh, "fools make feasts and wise men eat them, debts come due and you've nothing to meet them.

"Whistle here," says Providence, when the ruin and disgrace of some old speculator, whose greed of gain has made him an embeslier, brings home the warning to the young speculator, who knows that though not yet discovered, he has begun to tread the same path. Ah, friends, heed these friendly warnings; though oft repeated are not heard forever. Their voice is destined by our very familiarity with them.

AN OLD VISITOR

In a New Dress Will Be Here on May 13th.

A day of real holiday blinrity and good cheer is in store for our amusement goes with the advent of the Sun Brothers' Greater progressive Shows, which are underlined to appear at Louisa for two complete performances, afternoon and night. The Sun Brothers' Shows need scarcely any introduction to this or any other community. For the past seventeen years this up-to-date tented enterprise has established itself as a pre-eminent entertainer of the first water. Always offering something new upon each succeeding visit and invariably conducting a clean, able and honest exhibition.

The Sun Show is a massive one-circle exhibition, presenting one set and one feature at a time, but these of the very best, everything of a weather beaten nature being entirely eliminated.

The show carries a magnificent collection of Nature's Strangest, most wonderful and most curious forms of animal life, a genuine complete, living travelling natural history. Here will be found specimens of the Gnu or Horned Sloth, the Vlacke Vark of South Africa, only giant Blue-Faced Mandrill Monkey, then there are Lions, Tigers, Leopards, Hyenas, Zebus, Water Buffalo, Elephants, Camels, Baboons, etc., and including in this collection a cute, tiny baby camel and its mother.

The performers engaged this season are all artists of repute, and include the three Ayallons, a trio of high wire wonders; among the many marvels these people introduce, are feats of passing and re-passing, high leaping in and out of barrels, over chairs and all manner of athletic, gymnastic and acrobatic plays and pastimes, their work stands unrivaled. This act is truly a show of weirdly wondrous wire exploits, such as not even in the ratio of one to ten has even been seen in this country before.

PAINTSVILLE ITEMS.

NEWS FROM THE ENTERPRISING COUNTY SEAT OF JOHNSON.

The Consolidation Coal Company has let to contract the erection of 76 more houses at Van Lear. In addition a fine new office building is soon to be constructed by the same company. Business is certainly booming at Van Lear.

Congress, through the influence of Congressman Langley, has voted an allowance of $3,000 to the heirs of the late Mart Prestou, of Paintsville, for lumber confiscated by the Union soldiers during the civil war.

Peter Daniel, of Oliver was allowed $2,500 for lumber taken in a similar manner. Mr. Langley has been active in this matter and his labor has resulted in much good to two families.

Clayton Webb, of Sitka, who some time ago came near having his throat cut by Link Castle in a drunken row at Muddy Branch, for which offense Castle is now serving a term in the penitentiary, is again in the limelight, this time his troubles being caused by a girl. Without as much as hiding his wife and children goodbyes, Webb eloped with a girl living in his neighborhood, and the report is that he has fled to West Virginia. The father of the girl with whom Webb eloped is heart broken over the shameful affair.

The big handsome residence of John C. C. Mayo on Third street is to be completed within the next six or eight months. All arrangements have been made to that end and if a sufficient force of skilled workman can be gotten together Mr. Mayo and family will occupy the residence by the first of next year. The building is now in the hands of the plasterers. This work will require at least two months for completion. Carpenters will then be put to the task of completing the woodwork and then will come the painters and decorators. The building will cost not less than $300,000 including the furniture and will be the third finest residence in Kentucky.

That a deep-seated grudge is held against him by an unknown enemy is strongly believed by Edgar Preston, the merchant at Nippa, this county. Within a year several attempts have been made to destroy Mr. Preston's property. Last year he lost a barn by fire that originated in a mysterious way. A few months later an unsuccessful attempt was made to burn his store and last week he lost a fine mule that had been poisoned. The strange thing about the whole affair Mr. Preston cannot think of a single enemy. He is, so far as he knows on the best of terms with his neighbors and is not the kind of a man that is calculated to make enemies. The affair has worried him not a little and he is arranging to sell out and leave the neighborhood.

The Tibbals Coal Company, of Lower Greasy, this county, is not without its troubles. Recently the company passed into new hands. This was followed by a strike, which however, resulted in the strikers getting the worse end of the bargain, at least thirty-five miners and their families being shipped out without ceremony. The new superintendent, Col. A. Y. Ranchor, of Jackson, Ohio, seemingly having the situation well in hand, but from latest reports received from mines it seems a case of "Troubles seem to tread upon each other's heels so fast they follow," for now comes W. J. Ward, Jr., and has practically taken charge of the mines. Ward, a son of the late Jeff Ward, who formerly owned the property on which the mines are located, now asserts that he owns the property and has taken charge of the vacant houses and made an effort to collect rent off the tenants of those occupied. The Tibbals Company has the mines leased from the Rittenhouse Coal Company, which claims ownership of the property by purchase from John C. Ward, a brother of the present claimant. W. J. Ward's claim has put the Tibbals people and Col. Ranchor to guessing what will bob up next. A suit has been instituted or is about to be instituted by the Tibbals Company for the purpose of removing W. J. Ward and just how it will end will require some time to determine. Ward insists on holding the property and moved into one of the best houses in "Tibbal town." How long he will be permitted to stay will make another story, but upon the whole the Company's troubles have been fast and furious. It may end well for the company, for

Quiet Wedding at Paintsville.

On last Wednesday at the hour of 1:30 p. m. the home of Mrs. Mary Ward, corner 3rd and College Sts. was made the scene of a very delightful home wedding, when her daughter, Miss Ethel, was united in marriage to Mr. R. D. Hinkle, Jr. of Richardson, Ky.

The brides, one of the most accomplished and charming young ladies the most influential church and Sunday school workers and a leader in society, was daintily clad in a blue traveling suit, while the groom, a very successful and well talented young business man of high ideals and morals, wore a suit of black.

To the sweet melody of the wedding march, which was played by the bride's sister, Miss Ellen, they marched into the parlor where according to the usual ring ceremony they were declared to be husband and wife by the Rev. Roscoe Murray, pastor of the Baptist church of which the bride is one of the leading members.

After a very delicious lunch of ice cream and cake the happy couple departed on the afternoon train for Washington, D. C. and other Eastern points where they will remain for several days.

May happiness and prosperity be theirs through life and heaven their home after death is the wish and prayer of their host of friends.

An Early Spring Fish Lie

The Carlisle fish lier sends this one to the daily papers:

"John Guy, while fishing in Licking river near Upper Blue Lick Springs in Nicholas county, made a peculiar catch. He caught a small bass weighing about a half pound, and, after putting it on the fish string, put it back into the water. In a short time after he had resumed fishing he noticed a disturbance of the water where he had placed his string, and drawing it out was astonished to see had a bass on the string weighing several pounds. At first he was unable to see how his small fish had grown in such a small time, and, upon investigation, found that he had two bass instead of one on the string. The larger fish had swallowed the smaller one and had become fast to the string."

ALWAYS HUNGRY FOR PRODUCE

People living off the leading road bring your produce to the leading road and get big cash for it. Leave your produce with some of your friends on the leading road every Wednesday and H. J. PACK will be along and take it up paying big prices for it. When you hear my brass bugle make a shrill loud noise bring your produce to my one-horse wagon and get the cash for same. Last year I bought of the merchants and paid them wild cat prices, now I am going to pay it to the farmers and merchants both.

Pikeville, Ky., April 27.—Last night Thomas C. Cecil Lodge No. 375, F. and A. M., held a special meeting at Masonic Hall, at which the third degree was conferred on three candidates—George Parsons, Tom Calloway and Elias Hatfield—and the lecture was delivered by T. C. Songer of Ashland, and this was said by the those who heard it to have been the finest and most instructive they ever listened to in their lives. After the close of the lodge, the large assembly of local members and visiting brethren then repaired to the Conaoly House and a banquet followed in honor of Mr. Songer.

That it is dangerous to scrap with a man when his wife is nearby can be thoroughly attested to by a man by the name of Carley, who is nursing a very sore head, as a result of an altercation he was having last Friday with Alex Church, when Mrs. Church armed herself with a hammer and proceeded to take a hand in the fight, using the hammer with telling effect on Carley's head.

There may be some extenuating circumstances in the case of Mrs. Church's free use of the hammer, because there may not have been any broom stick handy, and perhaps Mayor Morris so considered it, when Monday morning he imposed a fine of $10 against each of the Churches.—Tri-State Enterprise.

A roar that was heard all through West Huntington attracted the attention of the people in that section of the city and throughout Harveys town and community Saturday night, and investigation developed that another outrage had been perpetrated in Harveys town, probably by the very same outlaws who shot into Harveys town church and a residence several weeks ago.

A heavy charge of dynamite was placed under an outbuilding adjoining the schoolhouse and set off about 10 o'clock, just as singing school was being dismissed, blowing the building into a million pieces, literally wiping it out of existence, and almost jarring the schoolhouse from its foundation. The whole town for a moment, was terrorized, and an investigation was begun at once by the seven recently appointed deputies named by Sheriff Harsh-berger to keep down lawlessness in that community. An alarm was telephoned in to the police, who referred the matter to Sheriff Harshberger, who in turn telephoned the Harveys town officials that they had been appointed for such cases and to take care of it. A man was at once sent in for Hutchinson's blood hounds, and they were sent to the scene at an early hour Sunday morning.

Miss Nona Robertson of Pikeville, went on a visit to friends in Lexington recently. She was joined by Mr. Charles Fuller, of Lexington. They went to Owingsville

The Facts About Pe-ru-na.

Is Peruna an alcoholic beverage in disguise? Is it possible to use Peruna as a substitute for whiskey? Do people buy Peruna and use it as a toddy, or a bitters, or a brace?

It would be the easiest thing in the world for any one to demonstrate the falsity of such statements. Let any one go to the drug store and purchase a bottle of Peruna. Let him undertake to use it as a beverage, or take this remedy in doses considerably larger than those prescribed on the bottle. Would the result be alcoholic intoxication? Nothing of the sort. Let any one try it and see.

Peruna is a medical compound quite heavily loaded with medicinal ingredients. If taken in doses larger than prescribed it would produce a positive drug effect. No one could take it as a beverage. If any one doubts these statements, try it and see. We know that Peruna cannot be used as a beverage; that it will not intoxicate; that it cannot be used as a substitute for liquor. We guarantee that PERUNA CONTAINS NO CHEAP WHISKEY—OR ANY OTHER WHISKEY, for that matter.

It contains a small per cent of cologne spirits, absolutely essential to dissolve and hold in solution medicinal ingredients, but the drugs contained in Peruna prohibit its use as a beverage. It would be the easiest thing in the world for any one to demonstrate this if they chose to do so.

Peruna is sold everywhere. THE INGREDIENTS ARE PLAINLY PRINTED ON EACH BOTTLE. It has been said over and over again that chemists have analyzed Peruna and found it to contain only cubebs and whiskey. New we challenge any chemist to demonstrate any such statement. Let any one who has even a smattering knowledge of chemistry purchase a bottle of Peruna and see whether or not it contains whiskey, find out for himself whether or not it is composed of cheap whiskey and cubebs. Of course, cubebs is one of the ingredients of Peruna, but there are many other ingredients. It contains hydnastis canadensis, corydalis formosa, collinsonia, and at least four other medicinal ingredients. To be sure, no chemist could so analyze Peruna as to be able to identify the various medicinal ingredients. This is beyond the ability of any chemist. But any ordinary chemist would be able to say that Peruna is heavily loaded with medicinal ingredients of some kind in addition to cubebs.

Now why are these statements repeated when their falsity could be so easily demonstrated? Simply because there is continued hostility toward Peruna on the part of the medical profession. Very likely the magazines which took up the crusade against Peruna and denounced it as a cheap beverage were misled by statements of the medical profession. Probably they were sincere in their attitude towards it. But now, after all these things have been said and refuted, it would seem to be in order for such people to use a little fairness and common sense in the matter.

Every time any one says that Peruna is nothing but cheap whiskey and cubebs he is telling a lie, an absolute falsehood. Most people intend to speak the truth. But the prevalent habit of repeating other people's statements, without investigation as to their truth, has led many well-meaning people to say these false things about Peruna.

Used according to the directions on the bottle, PERUNA IS A SAFE AND RELIABLE CATARRH REMEDY, but, like any other good medicine, if taken in excess of those doses, it will produce drug effects very unpleasant to the person who takes it.

It is therefore up to every honest person to quit making such statements concerning Peruna, or acknowledge that he is repeating slanders about which he knows nothing. One might just as well say that Castor Oil is an antiseptic; that if taken in large enough doses it will operate as a "booze." If people never tried to see, but simply repeated such statements about Castor Oil, the majority of people would come to believe them. It is no easier to demonstrate such a statement about Castor Oil than it would be about Peruna.

Any one who takes Peruna knows that such statements are false. To say that Peruna is cheap whiskey and cubebs may constitute good material for jokes on the vaudeville stage, but there is no excuse for any one who pretends to be truthful saying over again this oft-repeated falsehood.
